

TAD ROBINSON

One of the leading voices of modern soul-blues music.

From his NYC roots and his Indiana and Chicago musical upbringing, Severn Records recording artist, Tad Robinson has caught the attention of the scene with his 10 Blues Music Award nominations (the Grammys of blues music) and his recordings for the Severn label as well as his earlier work on Delmark Records. He tours widely in the U.S. and has played in over 20 countries worldwide with performances at some of the most important international blues festivals. With harmonica chops influenced by Sonny Boy Williamson and Junior Parker and a vocal style inspired by Otis Redding, Syl Johnson, and Al Green, among others, Robinson ranks as one of the most unique and talented bandleaders in the international blues and soul communities.

Robinson's new release Real Street on Severn Records continues his high level artistry. On the 10 tracks on Real Street, Robinson is backed by the architects of the Southern soul sound, the Hi Rhythm Section.

"Robinson's lyrics go for the soul, and his old-school balladry is lovely and lush...a soulfulness plucked out of the anywhere airwaves of decades past." - LIVING BLUES
